

Detailed Guidance for Return to Public Worship: Having prepared our three churches safely for private prayer, each church is celebrating the Eucharist this Sunday. If you feel ready to come, you will be very welcome, but there are a few things you need to know in advance. If you are shielding, please do not feel any pressure to return just yet, although we are offering St John's as an option for those who wish to return. If you have symptoms of COVID-19, you must not attend. For those who plan to come, please can you aim to arrive up to half an hour before the service begins.

This is because we will have 2-metre-spaced queueing and you will need to sanitise your hands before each individual or family unit is taken to their seats. We will also be making a note of everyone who attends and a contact telephone number, in order to assist with NHS Test and Trace. These details will be kept securely and destroyed after 21 days.

Once you are in your seat, there will be no movement, except for the carefully-organised receiving of communion (and toilet access remains for the churches).

For this Sunday, Holy Trinity will have an upper limit of 45 people;

Christ Church 36 people;

St John's 20 people.

We will consider a booking system for future Sundays if it seems necessary.

Let us all hold each other in prayer as some return to church, while others still wait, asking that God will protect and guide us in the days to come.
